17,000 Machinists To Remain Out At St. Louis Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Striking McDonnell Aircraft Corp. machinists agreed today to go back to work at Cape Kennedy so as not to delay a Dec. 4 space shot, federal officials said.

The agreement, however, does not affect the strike of some 17,000 machinists against the company at St. Louis, Mo. The company is the prime contractor for Gemini space activities at Cape Kennedy and producer of Phantom jet fighters used in Viet Nam.

The AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists agreed to the request of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Chief Federal Mediator William E. Simkin to pull down picket lines at Cape Kennedy and go back to work there.

Union vice president Eugene Glover said the machinists at Cape Kennedy will be advised to the decision immediately and "I assume that they will return" to work.

John Garner Is 97 Today; Looks to 100

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — Former Vice President John Nance Garner celebrated his 97th birthday today with a brand new hat and a wish to be 100.

National and state officials gathered in this small South Texas town to honor the only man who ever served successively as speaker of the U.S. House and presiding officer of the U.S. Senate. Others sent birthday wishes by mail and wire.

Garner made his birthday wishes known late Sunday in an emotional visit with his son, Tully Garner, 67, prominent Uvalde businessman.

"Son, I believe you want me to reach 100 as much as I do," said the elder Garner.

"I want it even more, dad," Tully said.

The former vice president's birthday presents began arriving as he talked to his son and a few visitors beneath the giant oak trees encircling the modest white house where Garner now lives.

Tully brought a new light tan hat and a billfold. The Uvalde mayor sent a tie. Another old friend brought a pair of warm socks.

Garner had to be reminded to go inside when dusk began to fall.

"These oak trees and me are partners," the bushy-browed Garner told visitors. "I have been sitting under this one old tree since I was maybe 70 years, and I bet it will last another 70 if I can last that long. That's all I've got to do, now, is sit here under these old trees."

He reached out a hand and strained his weakening eyes to see each newcomer.

"You are as welcome here as these old oak trees," he said.

Cactus Jack, as he was known during much of his 46 years as a public official, bowed out of politics in 1940 when he caught a train to Texas and never returned to Washington.

He began his political career with election as Uvalde County judge when Grover Cleveland was president. He served two terms in the Texas Legislature and was elected to Congress in 1902. He served in the U.S. House 30 years and was elected speaker in 1931. In 1932, he lost a bid for the Democratic presidential nomination, but was picked as Franklin D. Roosevelt's running mate.

After two terms as vice president, he and Roosevelt broke up the partnership and Garner returned to Texas.

Mark JFK Assassination Anniversary

Inclement Weather Is No Bar to Many Visitors to Grave

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the drizzle-damp chill of a gray day of remembrance, a bouquet of small white lilies was placed today at the base of the eternal flame that flickers over the grave of John F. Kennedy.

The token from Jacqueline Kennedy, young widow of the slain President, was delivered by her mother, Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, to the burial site on a hillside in Arlington National Cemetery.

Meantime other Americans across the land observed the second anniversary of the young President's slaying in ways of their own.

No formal service was planned at the graveside, but the inclement weather was no bar to the individual visitors, thousands of whom walked up the long pathway Sunday.

Other members of the Kennedy family were expected during the day.

Mrs. Auchincloss came at 7:50 a.m., before the cemetery gates were opened to the public.

Initial Returns Show Bond Sale Funds At $6,700

Solicitation and return of packets in the annual Children's Therapy Center bond sale were over 80 per cent complete today with collections at $6,700, running ahead of the total for the same time during last year's drive.

Some 600 volunteers assisted in Sedalia and Pettis County Sunday in carrying out the fund raising effort for the rehabilitative center, which provides a wide variety of therapy and services for the handicapped.

Persons not at home Sunday when the house-to-house solicitation was made were left information brochures and self-addressed envelopes in which contributions may be mailed to the center. Any persons who may have been missed in the campaign may mail their contributions directly to the center, Roger Garlich, director, pointed out.

Revise Plan To Relocate Route 127

Location of approximately an eight-mile section of dual lane pavement on Highway 50 between LaMonte and Dresden has been approved as final by the State Highway Commission Leland D. Fletcher, district highway engineer, has informed the Democrat-Capitol.

But a proposed relocation of Route 127 through LaMonte has been revised.

"The State Highway Commission at their Nov. 12 meeting approved as final the location for Route 50 outlined at the public hearing at LaMonte on Oct. 13," Fletcher said.

"The proposed location of State Route 127, however, has been changed from the location outlined at the public hearing so as to follow the present alignment. This will be done by shifting the proposed dual lane Route 50 to the south a sufficient distance to retain present Route 50 through LaMonte as an outer roadway. Route 127 will cross the new dual lane 50 at its present west location and then use the present 50 pavement, thereby providing the same route as it now follows.

"We believe this will reduce severance damage, business displacement and right-of-way costs through the LaMonte area," said Fletcher.

"The present pavement will be used as an outer roadway only in the immediate vicinity of LaMonte."

Beat Back Heavy Onslaughts By Communists; 300 Killed

7th Fleet Bombardments Aid South Vietnamese

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese forces beat back two heavy Communist assaults on the central coast today with help from bombardment U.S. Navy ships off shore and air strikes later. U.S. and South Vietnamese officers said at least 300 of about 1,500 attackers were killed.

The attack broke before dawn and the U.S. advisers called for the bombardment from two 7th Fleet destroyers lying offshore.

The Navy shells kept the attackers down until the weather cleared later in the day. Then U.S. and South Vietnamese planes and U.S. Marine helicopters attacked with napalm bombs and rockets.

Two U.S. Army advisers were killed in the heaviest assault, by 1,500 Viet Cong on a battalion of 500 rangers near Thach Tru, in Quang Ngai Province 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

"I got the S.O.B.'s that shot them," said Staff Sgt. Henry McNeal of Pittsburgh, Pa., who with a fourth American adviser was not hurt.

The Americans were killed at an outpost on a hill about half a mile west of the government fort. A battalion of U. S. Marines was lifted by helicopter onto the hill to reinforce the Vietnamese rangers.

Viet Cong bodies were strewn inside the fort, in the rice paddies in front of it and on the outpost hill.

Attack planes silenced six 81mm Viet Cong mortars that were firing on the hill.

U.S. and South Vietnamese officers on the scene said at least 200 Viet Cong were killed. Associated Press correspondent George Esper said he counted more than 100 bodies.

Officials said the government casualties were light, but Esper said their casualties appeared to be moderate. Many of the rangers were killed inside the fort in close-in fighting.

The Viet Cong assaulted the fort six times during an eight-hour period. They were beaten off by small arms, automatic weapons and hand grenades.

Many of the Viet Cong were wearing brown khaki shirts and short black pants. A commemorative button reading "Dien Bien Phu Battalion" was found on one of the bodies. This battalion fought in the decisive battle at Dien Bien Phu in 1954 where the Viet Minh defeated the French.

Government troops also captured nearly 100 enemy weapons, many of them late-model types including recoilless rifles, light machine guns and Chinese-type assault rifles.

Phone Rates Revision To State PSC

Would Cut Annual Company Revenue By $3.5 Million

JEFFERSON CITY, (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. presented a rate revision plan today which it estimated would cut its annual revenue about $3.5 million.

R. R. Shockley, vice president and general manager of Bell, told the Public Service Commission the plan would do two things:

"Reduce certain rates and charges for telephone equipment and services throughout the state.

"Enlarge the toll-free calling scope for both of our two metropolitan centers, St. Louis and Kansas City."

If approved, he said the company could put the entire plan into operation in about 30 months.

William R. Clark, chairman of the PSC, ordered an investigation of Bell's finances last June. Today's hearing was the result.

"If the staff upholds Bell's interpretation of the reduction in revenue following its analysis," Clark said, "it may advise acceptance of the proposals. It is too early for me to make any comment."

Clark said whatever action the commission takes, it "will not necessarily mean an end to our investigation. And, if the proposals are accepted, it does not rule out the possibility of a formal rate case against Bell in the future."

Former West Point Leader Is Dead

ASHVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Gen. Francis Bowditch Wilby, 82, former head of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, died Saturday after a long illness. He was commandant of the school from 1942 to 1946 when he retired from the military.

Education Grants Total $325,000

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Grants totaling $325,000 were announced Sunday by two educational foundations toward implementation of a compact of states "for improvement of education."

The Carnegie Corp. of New York gave $175,000 and the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, $150,000. The money will be used to operate the compact's administrative body, the educational commission of the states.

Nineteen governors and educational leaders drew up the initial draft of the compact in Kansas City Sept. 29-30.

The compact will become effective after at least 10 states have adopted its provisions. It will have authority only to advise the states, not set policy.

An interim planning, development and steering committee named Sunday includes Dave Nichols, president of the Kansas State Association of School Boards, and state Sen. Richard Webster of Missouri.

Long Opinion On Stuffing In Turkeys

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court celebrated Thanksgiving ahead of time today by churning out a 6,000-word opinion in a frozen stuffed turkey case.

The issue: Is it legal for New York state to require, as it does that a frozen turkey carry a label showing separately the weights of the fowl and the filler?

The 6-3 decision: That weighty issue, which involves federal-state relations, must be decided by the Federal Circuit Court in New York. Therefore that court will conduct further proceedings.

The 6,000-word majority opinion, well-stuffed with legal language on the powers of lower courts, was delivered by Justice John M. Harlan.

He said the real issue was whether a special three-judge federal court, a one-judge federal court, or the much larger U.S. Circuit Court, all in New York City, should have decided the question.

He tapped the big circuit court as the one to decide. At the same time he said it was not appropriate for the three-judge federal court to act on the issue.

Three Jail Escapees Are Recaptured

Five Others Still Free; One Termed 'Highly Dangerous'

HILLSBORO, Mo. (AP) — Three of eight prisoners who fled from the Jefferson County jail here Sunday night after severely beating a night guard were recaptured today.

They included two whom Sheriff Walter Buerger had described as "extremely dangerous" — Francis David, 19, of Potosi, Mo., who had been charged with breaking and entering.

Also recaptured was J. C. Parks, 23, of Potosi, charged with armed robbery. The sheriff's office said they offered no resistance when recaptured along county roads.

Sheriff Walter Buerger said the men sawed bars of the bullpen and waylaid the dispatcher, Conrad Pilen, 33, when he arrived to take them to their cells.

Pilen, beaten severely, was locked up. The men fled with his gun and the jail keys. Tilen was released about 40 minutes after the jailbreak was discovered.

Two prisoners in the bullpen refused to join in the escape.

The highway patrol gave this list of the fugitives:

James Edwin DeShleria, 25, and Leslie Wilson Hurt, 20, both of St. Louis, and both held for burglary and larceny; Charles Alex Heard, St. Louis, armed robbery; Francis Jacob David, 19, J. C. Parks, 23, and Richard William Chandler, 23, all of Potosi and all charged with armed robbery; Lonnie Dale Martin, 17, Eureka, Mo.; Joseph Gray, 17, St. Louis County.

Charges against Martin and Gray were not listed.

Long Lauds Scientific Step at MU

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The University of Missouri was praised by Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., today for launching "a tremendous scientific effort to solve the urgent problems of air pollution, water pollution and soil pollution."

The senator spoke at the dedication of the new Environmental Health Center which will conduct state-wide research through the University of Missouri campuses at Columbia, Rolla, Kansas City and St. Louis.

He said the university, through the Environmental Health Center, is taking the lead in coming to grips with one of the nation's newest and most complex problems.

"Today we are running out of space for dumping our solid wastes," he said. "We can no longer merely burn them without creating more air pollution. We cannot grind them up and dump them in our rivers and streams without increasing our water pollution."

"Our answer must be in a massive program of research and training. We must bring in all the experts — our biologists, our engineers, our doctors," Long said.

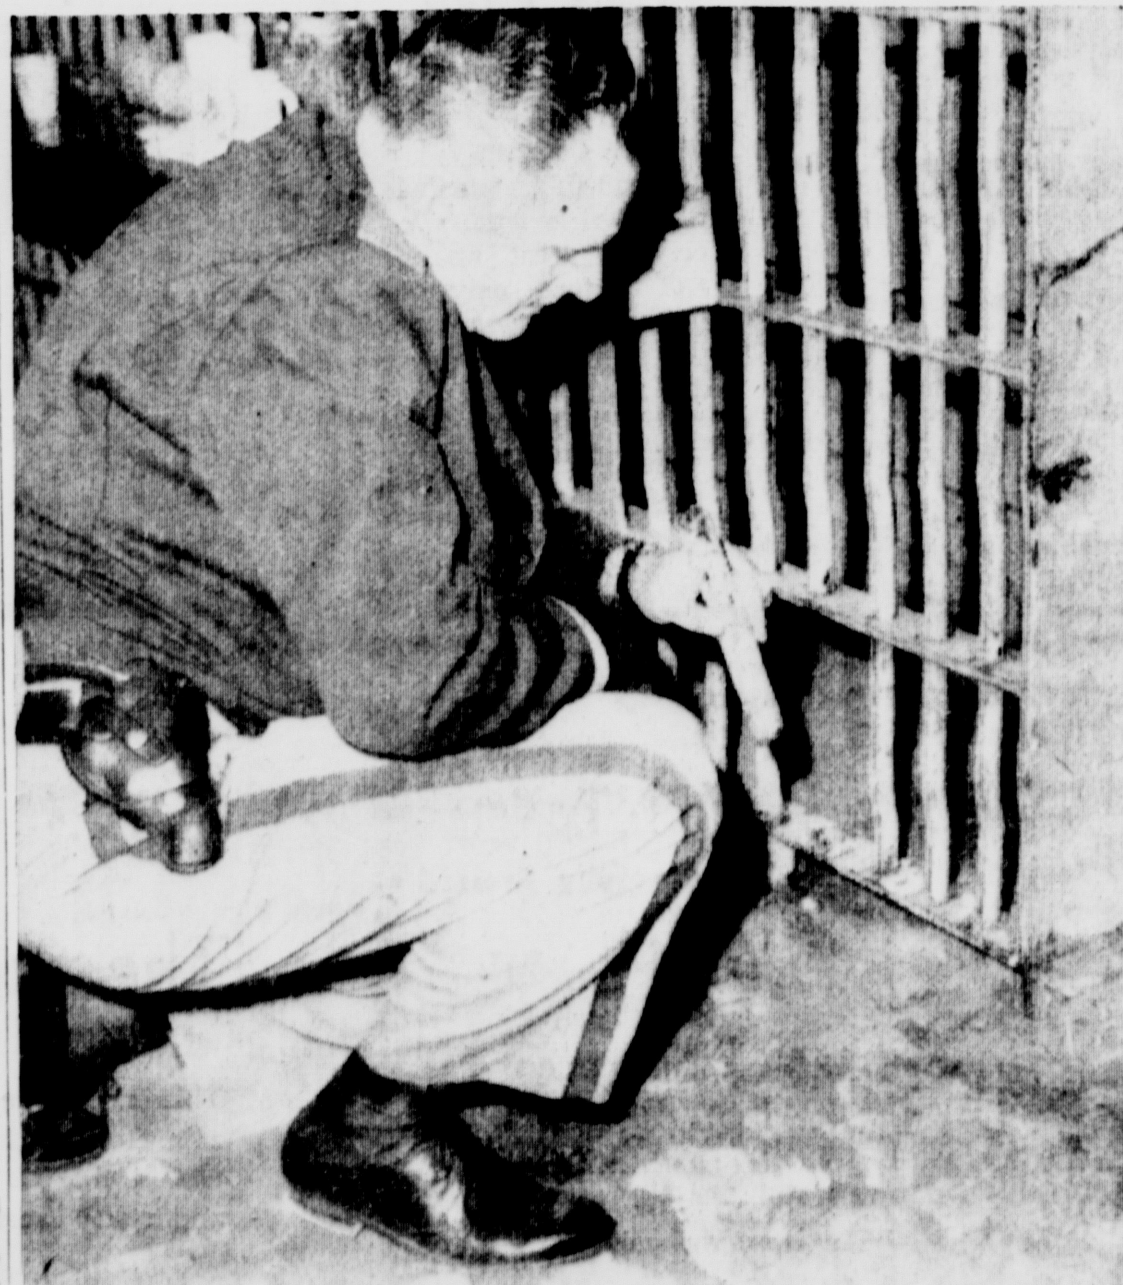

"I am confident that there are solutions. Not simple solutions, not a jungle of regulations and restrictions. But solutions uncovered in the cause of better health for our citizens."

"By research and training," he said, "we must deal with pollution hazards without halting the growth and development of our state and nation."

"So let us not dedicate this center to the theme that there has been too much progress, that technology has created too many problems, too much pollution, too many wastes," Long said. "Instead let us be determined that through this center American scientific know-how can eliminate the undesirable by-products of technology — just as we have solved so many of our other problems."

Long said the center marks yet another milestone in the expansion of research facilities at the University of Missouri.

He said the university in 1964 won nearly $1.2 million in 57 separate health research grants.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Last night my husband and I joined another couple for dinner at a very good restaurant. A teenage couple and their baby were at the next table.

Midway through our meal I was horrified to see the young mother unbutton her blouse and proceed to breast feed her child right there in the dining room.

Two boys, about 14 and 15 years old, were seated at the next table with their parents. They didn't take their eyes off the nursing mother. Their parents finally changed seats with the boys so they would not be facing the "floor show."

I expressed the opinion that nursing a child in public was in poor taste. No one at our table felt as strongly as I did. Am I old-fashioned, crazy or what?—ALL ALONE.

Dear All: You are NOT alone. I'm with you. The person in charge of the dining room should have shown the mother to the ladies lounge. People who don't know better need to be told.

Dear Ann Landers: A recent column about fathers preferring male offspring to females goaded me into writing my first letter to Ann Landers.

Why do so many people assume that fathers want sons and not daughters? This theme has been driven into the ground on TV, in the movies, in jokes, novels and daily conversations—an it just isn't true. Many families yearn to have a girl and they get boys, boys, boys, and more boys. But we never hear about them.

My husband tells me that very few men care one way or the other. He says the "I want a son" routine is a little game the boys play. Any psychiatrist will tell you that the father-daughter bond is stronger than the father-son bond. Fathers may respect their sons but they adore their daughters.—MOTHER OF BOTH.

Dear Mother: I've received a bale of mail on this subject and one little poem keeps cropping up—about 3,000 times, I'd like to pass it along.

"A son is a son until he takes a wife.
"A daughter is a daughter all of her life."

Dear Ann Landers: I was widowed when I was in my late twenties. I have been married to my second husband for 18 years. They have been the happiest 18 years of my life.

About a year ago an interesting couple with three children bought the home next door. The woman is attractive and 15 years younger than I am. (I am 50).

At first I thought I might be imagining things but now I'm sure the neighbor woman is trying to throw me at her husband because she is interested in mine. She sets up situations so her husband and I will be alone and she tries to get my husband to help her mix drinks in the other room. Last night she said, presumably kidding, "If you ever get tired of Bob send him to me and take Harold."

Should I play dumb and continue to be friendly or would it be best to chop the friendship at once?—J.A.G.W.

Dear J.A.G.W.: Even without the problem you describe it's always best to be on a lukewarm invitation-only basis with your neighbors. Under the circumstances, however, I strongly recommend a subtle cooling and finally a permanent freeze.

Communism Is Receding, Says Rusk

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today that communism has receded in Latin America over the past few years.

"I think there is no doubt that it has lost strength in Latin America," Rusk said in an ABC television interview.

Rusk, who last visited South America in 1962, said there are indications Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro now "realizes that his type of activity cannot succeed."

He said Castro is perhaps less active now than before. And in some Latin-American countries the voters have rejected Castro as a solution to their problems, he said, adding:

"I think that undoubtedly the situation in the hemisphere is stronger today from that point of view than it was a year or two ago."

Rusk was to present the U.S. position to the inter-American conference this afternoon.

The hemisphere foreign ministers are discussing ways to update the inter-American system to deal with changing political and economic needs. Seven of the 19 foreign-policy leaders have spoken since the two-week meeting began Nov. 17.

The U.S. delegation has kept its specific proposals under wraps pending Rusk's speech but the general theme is known.

The United States would like to have the hemisphere ministers meet every year for general review sessions rather than at five-year intervals as prescribed by the charter of the Organization of American States.

Plan Kennedy Memorials In Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The spot where President John F. Kennedy was assassinated two years ago today is marked, so far, only by flowers and objects left by hundreds of visitors.

Next year, however, the City of Dallas plans to complete two memorials. One will be a 30-foot marker costing $20,000. The other will be a new plaza a block north of the assassination site.

The visitors come from all over America and from many foreign countries.

As the flowers they leave wither, the city has them taken away to be preserved in a cedar-paneled storeroom.

The flower wreaths number in the hundreds now. The stored collection includes many flags, plastic crosses and Bibles.

A large wooden chest contains the notepaper, postcards, and paper sacks on which visitors wrote about the feelings they experienced at the assassination site.

On the back of a Japanese fan, a Tokyo visitor wrote: "I loved you. I admire you forever. I will not be able to forget you. Your image will not die."

Two Michigan families signed a note that read: "We came a long way from Michigan to pay tribute to our late president Kennedy. May he rest in peace."

Within six months, Dallas city park director, L. B. Houston, hopes to unveil the marker memorial, consisting of three bronze panels set in native red granite, and containing a description of the tragedy using words and maps from the Warren Commission report.

The marker will be paid for from park department funds. It will be about 200 feet from the spot where the president was shot. Visitors will be able to glance up at the orange-brick Texas School Book Depository building from which Lee Harvey Oswald fired his rifle.

The plaza north of the assassination site will be known as Kennedy Memorial Plaza. It will contain a modest and dignified memorial in keeping with Mrs. Kennedy's wishes.

County buildings now on the site will be razed. Officials say the plaza should be completed by late 1966.

All the states in the Union are divided into counties except Louisiana, which is divided into parishes.

Fatigue, Drunkenness, Flu, Data in Mail

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Simple fatigue is blamed for one out of three U.S. highway accidents. So, if you're tired, stay out from behind the wheel.

Habitual drunkenness is ground for divorce in 42 states, drug addiction in only 11. Three states allow divorce if one marriage partner tries to kill the other.

Life is getting easier all the time. A quarter of a century ago the coffee break was fairly uncommon in industry. Today many firms now pay for the coffee their employees consume.

Coal miners like to use tunnel supports made from loblolly pine trees because when pressure becomes too great the loblolly props groan aloud — thus warning of an impending cave-in.

Hearnes Sets Tentative Date For Election

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes says he plans to call a special election Jan. 14 on legislative redistricting.

The governor also has hinted that two other constitutional amendments might be put on the ballot to bring out more voters. The two amendments were passed by the legislature last spring.

One would allow county employees to be pensioned, and the other would raise the basic school tax from $1 in most of the state and 89 cents in St. Louis to $1.25.

In a television interview at Columbia Sunday, Hearnes said there shouldn't be a tax increase next year, but the state may have to issue capital improvement bonds by 1968 or 1969.

The governor said he wouldn't take part in any move to unseat Rep. Thomas D. Graham of Cole County, the House Speaker who opposed Hearnes in the reapportionment battle.

Graham has accused the governor of using pressure tactics and threats.

"I have never used any threats and never will," Hearnes said. "I never twisted anyone's arm and never pressured anyone."

It is hard today — and getting harder — to tell the real color of a woman's hair. But among those without benefit of tints or dyes, brunettes outnumber natural blondes 5-1. Only one out of 33 has red hair.

Speaking of the ladies, some nine million now use flavored lipstick. Among the lip-smacking new flavors available are candymint punch, cinnamon swizzle, sugarplum punch, and eggnog grog. We're saving our heart for a girl who wears lipstick that tastes like either chili or T-bone steak.

HILLSIDE MEMORIAL—Visitors to President Kennedy's gravesite, marked by white picket fence in foreground, have a clear view of construction under way on the permanent memorial to the 35th president. When completed late next summer, the site on a hillside in Arlington National Cemetery will be a quietly austere plaza looking across the Potomac to the Lincoln Memorial.

On North Viet Nam

LaMay Notes Restrictions Imposed On USAF Raiders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay says there was a checkrein on the way targets in North Viet Nam could be attacked.

LeMay, retired Air Force chief of staff, was asked by The Associated Press whether there have been restraints on U.S. pilots operating against North Viet Nam.

"When I left active duty, there were some restrictions on the number of airplanes that could be used on a mission and also on types of ordinance that could be delivered," LeMay replied.

Asked for comment, the Defense Department said, "We do not discuss tactics followed in carrying out combat air operations over North Viet Nam."

LeMay retired Feb. 1, just prior to the first air strike against North Viet Nam.

He said: "I am not familiar with the activity since I retired."

The founder of the Strategic Air Command did not say who imposed the restrictions.

However, since the air attacks started last Feb. 7 a number of senior Air Force and Navy officers have spoken privately — and with irritation — about the limits they said were established by top civilian officials.

Many of these curbs since have been relaxed and much greater leeway is allowed military commanders.

The number of missions to be flown into the North in a given period is subject to approval in Washington.

Military targets in and around Hanoi and its port city of Haiphong are still off limits to U.S.

bombers.

LeMay's statement put on the record for the first time what other officers have said in less open fashion.

At one stage in the early months of the bombing, one top officer said that, in effect, President Johnson was functioning almost like a squadron commander and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara as an executive officer. This officer said the President and McNamara approved or disapproved specific targets to be hit; that top civilian officials determined the way the targets were to be attacked, the size of the attacking force, and the type of bombs and rockets to be used.

Defenders of this policy have said it was necessary because the bombings have a political as well as a military purpose, that the intent is to limit damage as much as possible to military targets and thus demonstrate to the Communists that the United States does not want to destroy power plants, oil storage, industrial targets, ports, etc."

During his 35 years of military service LeMay achieved a reputation as a leader in development of doctrine and practice in air warfare. He has accepted a job with a California electronics firm.

In the exclusive interview, LeMay underscored and elaborated on what he has said previously about the air war against North Viet Nam.

"What I propose is stepping up the attacks and making it progressively more expensive for the North Vietnamese to continue the war in the South," LeMay said.

"I don't advocate complete devastation of the North (although we have the capability of doing this if necessary). I do not advocate attacking the people; rather, they should be warned away from targets."

"I do advocate attacking more important targets such as air fields with MIGs on them, power plants, oil storage, industrial targets, ports, etc."

LeMay said there is "a real danger" that the Chinese Communists "might find it attractive to escalate their support for North Viet Nam's aggression" slowly, hoping to prolong the war, increase our losses, and thereby weaken our will and support here at home."

He said "I am not advocating" any preventive air strikes against Communist China's atomic installations.

However, the general did not rule out the possibility of such strikes, saying that "if this were the solution arrived at, and if the strikes were directed by the President, the Air Force could do the job."

Second Anniversary

Flowers of Remembrance On Kennedy Grave Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Flowers of remembrance rested on President John F. Kennedy's hillside grave today on the second anniversary of his assassination. Across the nation, Americans remembered.

The president's widow was expected to send flowers to his grave, as she did on the first anniversary. Other members of the Kennedy family were expected to kneel at the white picket fence surrounding the grave in Arlington National Cemetery across the Potomac River from the capital.

President Johnson directed Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach to lay a presidential wreath on the grave. Johnson was with Kennedy in Dallas when the young chief executive was gunned down by an assassin's bullets.

On the eve of the anniversary, thousands walked up the long pathway to the grave.

A group from El Paso, Tex., brought a wreath.

A girl brought a vase of white chrysanthemums and gave them to a soldier standing guard. He placed them inside the picket fence.

Memorial services were scheduled in several cities today.

The President and Mrs. Johnson were to attend noon services at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Fredericksburg, Tex., in a peaceful rural setting about 15 miles from their ranch.

In Dallas, the Rev. Oscar Huber, the priest who gave the last rites to the late president, today offers a dedicatory prayer at the John F. Kennedy Living Center, a home for exceptional youths.

Also in Dallas, various church services were scheduled for today, including a memorial Mass at the Sacred Heart Cathedral.

A wreath was to be placed at the assassination site at the west edge of downtown Dallas by the Democratic Clubs of Dallas County.

In Spokane, Wash., Sunday, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., delivered the dedicatory

Questions Raised On Bombing Haiphong

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Against the background of increasingly warlike Red Chinese pronouncements, speculation about blockading or even bombing North Viet Nam's vital port of Haiphong raises a question of what the Chinese response might be. It could mean more direct and open Chinese involvement in the Viet Nam war.

Haiphong looks eastward across the Tonkin Gulf toward Hainan and the Luichow Peninsula, both highly sensitive Red Chinese military zones. To the northeast, less than 100 miles away and linked to it by a rail line — by now probably cut by U.S. bombing — is the border of Kwangsi Province.

Haiphong probably is the only point of entry now for shipments of heavy military equipment to Communist North Viet Nam. A number of large-hatched ships were observed in port during the summer, possibly delivering surface-to-air missiles or other equipment pledged as Soviet defense aid.

The port is extremely important for North Viet Nam's normal trade with the outside world.

U.S. military sources have speculated that if Haiphong were destroyed, the North Vietnamese might consider they had little to lose by inviting more direct Chinese participation in the war, perhaps in the form of "volunteers" in the style of the Korean conflict.

Sen. Daniel Brewster, D-Md., several weeks ago called for at least a mine blockade, sown from the air, to halt the influx of weapons to Haiphong.

During World War II, when the Japanese occupied the Tonkin area, the United States considered Haiphong's facilities important enough to the enemy to make it the target of repeated bombing attacks.

The prospects of further escalation of the war to include bombing of key industries or port facilities in North Viet Nam, with an eye to crippling its economy, have produced agitated comment from Peking.

Man Shoots Wife, Then Kills Himself

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A man shot his young wife to death then killed himself following a quarrel in their trailer home early Sunday, the coroner said.

Dr. Richard Johnson said the bodies of Jim Taylor, 23, and his wife, Rebecca, were found after neighbors heard a loud argument and gunshots. The coroner said there would be no inquest.

Red Chinese pronouncements have become more and more belligerent in recent days, typified last week by a blast from Jiao Mo-jo, vice chairman of the National People's Congress (Parliament). He avowed that Red China has made "all preparations" to engage in war with the United States.

Past Presidents Of Garden Clubs In Friday Meet

Past Presidents Club of the Sedalia Garden Clubs met at Flat Creek Inn at noon for a luncheon on Friday, Nov. 19, at which time the club voted to give $50 to the park board to replace some of the trees that have had to be removed.

The new officers of the year: Mrs. Norman Wehmeir, president; Mrs. Alfred Schreiner, first vice-president; Mrs. L. H. Hodges, second vice-president; Mrs. Wilson Harbit, secretary and Mrs. J. H. Gwin, treasurer, were installed by Mrs. Oscar DeWolf. Mrs. DeWolf used the colors red, blue, pink, gold and white, and as each was installed they were given a corsage in a color corresponding to that chosen for the office she was to hold.

Mrs. J. W. Boger, president, presided at the business meeting, and invocation was given by Mrs. Paul Read.

Mrs. Read also introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Wilford Acker and her sister, Mrs. Mattie Adams. As Mrs. Acker talked, Mrs. Adams painted a beautiful picture in keeping with the theme.

Nature points the way to heaven, Mrs. Acker said, for God's handiwork is seen in all things. As she told of the wonders of nature about us, Mrs. Adams painted an autumn scene, and Mrs. Acker stated that if the painting were named it would be "Ode to Autumn." She closed with a poem by that title.

A solo, "Trees" was sung by Mrs. T. E. Gasperson, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Berthouex.

The group singing was also led by Mrs. Gasperson.

Mrs. Boger presented two prize ribbons won at the Missouri State Fair Flower Show, the amount being $2.32.

There were 26 members present and two guests, Mrs. Acker and Mrs. Adams.

The next meeting will be the third Friday in April.

Artistry in the Kitchen

A lovely young singing star of motion pictures and television made a statement that can't help but interest housewives—and homemakers, too if there is a difference between a housewife and a homemaker.

This young lady was explaining that she didn't like to cook and that fortunately she had so much dough she didn't have to.

So far, so good. But then she said: "I don't feel cooking is a challenge. If you can read and follow directions, you can cook."

That's what she thinks! Millions of homemakers and their lucky, well-fed families know better. They know that the magic touch which makes mom's meals something out of this world can't be found in a cookbook. Not by a tablespoonful!

You couldn't blame these geniuses of the culinary arts if they were to retort to the young vocal artist:

"And if you can read and open your mouth real wide, you can sing."

But they won't do that, of course. For that would be just as nonsensical as what the young singer said.

So let her keep on singing and our favorite cook keep on cooking. And you know something? Even a beautiful young singer sounds better to a listener with a nice, full tummy.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Adlai's Last Words Were Garbled

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The last words of Adlai Stevenson as quoted by Eric Sevareid in Look magazine have stirred a tempest of discussion as to whether President Johnson was callous toward peace in Southeast Asia; whether he rebuffed peace overtures from U. N. Secretary General U Thant during the fall of 1964.

The facts in the case were rather fully reported in this column March 15, April 10 and Aug. 3, and are somewhat different from the version given to Sevareid by Adlai.

However, what neither he nor the State Department nor anyone else knew last year, and what has only leaked out last week, thanks to the Red Chinese, was that one day before Premier Kosygin arrived in Hanoi on the fatal Feb. 7 when the United States started bombing North Viet Nam, Kosygin had stopped in Peking to ask the Chinese to use their influence with the North Vietnamese for peace.

Or as the Chinese put it in their latest diatribe against the Russians, Kosygin had "stressed the need to help the United States find a way out of Viet Nam."

This was on Feb. 5-6. Next day, as Kosygin was spending the night in Hanoi, the United States answered with a fusillade of bombs, initiating a policy which has played into the Chinese hands.

This is why the Chinese have been continually accusing the Russians of "faithfully obeying orders of the U. S. imperialists. . . Officially transmitting to the democratic republic of Viet Nam these preposterous demands aimed at forcing the Vietnamese people into unconditional surrender."

This also makes understandable the bitterness of Russian reaction to our bombing policy.

Peace Won't Wait

Historians will doubtless speculate today on the anniversary of Kennedy's death and for years to come on how JFK would have played his cards for peace in the crucial year 1964 when, if alive, he would have been running for reelection. Instead Johnson was running. And about the time of the Atlantic City convention, Johnson sent a peace feeler to Ho Chi Minh. The response was vague.

"But simultaneously," as reported by this column last spring, "U. N. Secretary General Thant sent a message by way of Moscow to the North Vietnamese. He proposed truce talks on neutral ground, such as his native Burma or Cambodia."

This was what Adlai Stevenson was doubtless referring to in his talks with Sevareid. "A favorable response came back from Hanoi in September, again by the Moscow route," this column reported. "This was confirmed by President De Gaulle, who had taken his soundings through French instructors still in Hanoi."

But Johnson in September was in the middle of the election campaign and Barry Goldwater was accusing him of being soft on communism, of pulling his punches in Viet Nam by refusing to bomb North Viet Nam.

So Johnson waited. He waited until after elections, then went down to the LBJ Ranch to rest. He rested too long and he waited too long. Peace and war don't wait for elections or vacations.

Hanoi Reverses
During that two months wait, the government of South Viet Nam deteriorated. It had so many prime ministers, so much friction between Catholics and Buddhists that the North Vietnamese concluded they could win without talking peace.

So by the time Johnson finished campaigning and resting and got back to the pressing problem of peace, the North Vietnamese had changed their minds. My information is that this — not Secretary of Defense McNamara's intervention, as reported by Adlai — was what disrupted U Thant's drive for peace.

This column earlier reported: "In January President Johnson asked Canada, a member of the International Control Commission with offices in Hanoi, to find out whether the (earlier) offer was genuine. U Thant, at this point, was optimistic that the offer still stood, and persisted that it be accepted."

"J. Blair Seaborn, the Canadian member of the commission, reported back that North Viet Nam showed absolutely no interest in a truce." (This was in January, 1965.)

"The State Department was convinced, however, that the first sounding (in 1964) was not a mistake, but that Ho Chi Minh had changed his mind," this column reported.

Disastrous Decision
It was about two weeks after this that the President took the advice of his military men and followed the exact policy urged on him by Barry Goldwater during the election campaign. On Feb. 7 he bombed North Viet Nam.

Military advisers had argued that this would put him in a position to negotiate from strength. Political advisers say privately that it was the most disastrous decision he has made.

It has not stopped men and supplies from coming into South Viet Nam. They have come in even greater volume. And it has alienated most of our Asiatic friends, especially Japan. Finally, they point out that Hitler's blitz of London only stiffened British resistance and that the American bombs rained on Germany contributed little to Hitler's final defeat.

Massive land armies defeated Hitler, just as heavy American troop concentrations in South Viet Nam are beginning to turn the tide there.

Kennedy a Legend In Two-Year Span

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — In two years President John F.

Kennedy has become a legend, if not a myth. Day by day hundreds of people, sometimes thousands, make a pilgrimage to the Arlington Cemetery grave of this witty, graceful, articulate, almost boyish president who was assassinated at 46 Nov. 22, 1963.

To millions here and abroad he has become a shining figure, perhaps because of his unspooled enthusiasm a symbol of what they hope for in the future, either for themselves or mankind.

He meant different things to different people and thus in different ways was the image of what they would like to be: intelligent, rich, successful, good-looking, or concerned about people.

But now, after two years, it might be asked as it is bound to be asked in the years ahead:

Of all those who revere his memory, how many can say that they have any real recollection of what he did as president to earn this devotion? Perhaps not many, for their emotions are mixed up with memory.

A few episodes of his presidency are easily remembered.

The first was a disaster, which he honestly acknowledged, when he let Cuban exiles invade their homeland only to perish on the beaches at the Bay of Pigs because the American forces did not back them up.

There was his great triumph when he faced down Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in the Cuban missile crisis. The one was the great peak of his three White House years, the other was his great valley.

In between were all the other days of his presidency. All of them had life and spirit but his accomplishments were hardly distinguished enough to rate him among the great presidents or even the near great.

He was no match for President Johnson, for instance, in getting Congress to do his will, although in fairness it must be remembered Johnson has had a far greater percentage of his own Democrats there to work with than Kennedy had.

Congress ignored Kennedy on some of his biggest proposals: a civil rights law, medical care for people 65 and older, federal aid to public elementary schools. Johnson got them.

In foreign affairs, it seems fair to say, the attitude abroad toward this country was better under Kennedy than under Johnson, although here again the magic of his personality was probably more the reason than anything he did.

By getting involved in the Dominican Republic revolt and deeply involved in the Vietnamese war Johnson has antagonized many here and abroad. But in both cases, certainly in Viet Nam, Kennedy would almost surely have done the same.

Kennedy was building up U.S. military forces in Viet Nam, and this country was steadily getting more directly involved by the time Kennedy died, although Viet Nam was crumbling. Finally, to stop it, Johnson did what he is doing now.

Kennedy would hardly have stayed out of the Dominican Republic if he felt, as Johnson said he felt, the Communists might take over. In his dealings with Fidel Castro, Kennedy

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Surgery Only Answer To Gall Stone Problem

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q — I am a 60-year-old man. A recent X-ray revealed a large stone in my gall bladder. By avoiding greasy foods I have been fairly comfortable except for a continuous nagging pain at the base of my right shoulder blade. Is surgery the only cure for this? If I don't have an operation will it get worse?

A — There is no way to dissolve the stone. Some persons with proved stones in the gall bladder survive without operation but this is an unjustifiable gamble. With modern surgical techniques and antibiotics the operation is safe but postponing it greatly increases the danger of infection in the gall bladder spreading to the liver or pancreas. It also increases the danger of agonizing gallstone colic and of cancer of the gall bladder. Living without a gall bladder is no handicap but may eliminate one source of worry for you.

Q — Does X-ray always show whether there are stones in the gall bladder and whether the gall bladder is diseased? Would a gall bladder X-ray show whether you have an ulcer?

A — X-rays made after you have taken the opaque dye that concentrates in the gall bladder will reveal stones if any are present. In addition to this, X-rays may show that your gall bladder does not empty after a fatty meal (one type of gall bladder disease or malfunction). Other types of gall bladder disease must be found by other methods. A gall bladder X-ray will not reveal ulcers in the stomach or the duodenum, which lies just beyond the stomach.

Q — What is acute cholelithiasis? Is it curable? What medication should be taken for it?

A — Cholelithiasis refers to stones in the gall bladder. I presume the "acute" refers to the gall stone colic that occurs when a stone passes through the bile duct into the intestine. The only cure is surgical removal. The only drugs of any value would be pain killers to tide you over the worst of the attack.

Q — What diet do you recommend for gall bladder disease?

A — Most persons with gall bladder disease are overweight and should reduce. The most important consideration, both for the gall bladder disease and the weight problem, is the avoidance of fats — no chocolate, nuts, pie crust, avocados or whole milk. In almost everyone with this disease the gall bladder must eventually come out, after which a return to a liberal diet is possible. There are many advantages to not delaying this operation.

The Mature Parent

Another 'Life of Terror'?

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I am divorcing an alcoholic husband to whom I have been married for 15 years. Our children are 7, 10, and 12. Realizing as I do the terrible results of their father's lack of self-discipline, I want to instill a sense of responsibility in them so that they won't follow in his footsteps.

Lawrence Nobody who has not been married to an alcoholic can imagine the life of terror he leads you. I cannot bear the thought that . . .

ANSWER: So now you plan to lead a new life of terror lest your children follow in their alcoholic father's footsteps. Do you enjoy living lives of terror?

Know what I think? I think you'd better start right now to credit your children with their own awareness of what alcoholism makes of human beings. You are not the only member of your family who's been leading a life of terror, you know. Your children have been living that life, too.

Do you know what the problem of alcoholics is? Hovering people — oversolicitous, too-responsible people whose "love" continually conveyed such a sense of their superior competence that the object of their "love" began to assume that he possessed none at all — and learned to try to drown his unbearably incompetent self in alcohol.

Alcoholics stop drinking when some shocking experience of humiliation smashes their connection with the arrogant people who posed as their saviors. Then, they move across the frontier of despair into decision to save themselves.

I hope you don't mind my saying that it is arrogant of you to assume that you are obliged to "instill a sense of responsibility" into your children. But they are not incompetents and do not depend on you to save them. It is your problem that you cannot credit them with a suffering and awareness that may well be more sensitive than yours.

But don't be afraid of this showed how he felt about communism in this hemisphere.

Books about Kennedy are being gobbled up and devotion to his memory is still fervid and enormous.

But President Abraham Lincoln was the more tragic, harassed and complicated figure, a president whose problems were beyond anything Kennedy ever encountered.

For this reason over the years it is unlikely there will ever be for Kennedy the same vast literature and continuing interest as there has been for Lincoln.

Nevertheless, the reverence for Kennedy should last a long time. A good young man brutally killed in his golden time is an old and respected story that has captured the minds and hearts of people through the centuries.

Kennedy would hardly have stayed out of the Dominican Republic if he felt, as Johnson said he felt, the Communists might take over. In his dealings with Fidel Castro, Kennedy hovering tendency in yourself.

It's very hard for the marriage partners of alcoholics to avoid developing it. They live in constant expectation of disaster.

Terror of let-down by an alcoholic's children is not unreasonable, but let's not call it fancy things like "instilling responsibility" into them. The fancy name just makes our problem unavailable to us so that we cannot begin to labor on it — and take responsibility for ourselves.

The Complete Book of Duplicate Bridge by Norman Kay, Sidney Silodor and Fred Karpin has made its appearance. The book is excellent indeed and, among other things, discusses the major differences between duplicate and rubber bridge bidding and play.

As an example, they point out that in rubber bridge you never gamble with your contract when you don't have to. In duplicate you do so occasionally.

Thus, if you are South and West opens the jack of clubs against your four-heart contract, you look over dummy happily and note that you have one spade loser, one club loser and one possible trump loser. You win the trick in dummy and East drops the queen of clubs.

Now what should you do? You can start by leading out dummy's queen of hearts. Maybe East is one of those players who will cover automatically with the king if he has it. However, West does not put up the king. Should you finesse?

The rubber bridge answer is an unqualified "No!" You can play your ace of hearts and be sure of your contract while if you finesse unsuccessfully West will probably give his partner a club ruff and you will be down one.

What is the answer in match-point duplicate?

The authors say it is a pure guess but we disagree with them here. We would refuse the finesse and make sure of our contract.

FARMING---

Across Pettis County

By LARRY HALE
Director, MU Extension Center

BIG EARS CHOKE PICKER

"Ears were so big that they choked the picker" declared Raymond Gall of New Boston about a field of corn that made 238.6 bushels an acre. "It was the best corn I have ever grown" he said. The field is entered in the 17th annual state-wide corn growing contest sponsored by the Missouri Farmers Association. The corn is in the Mussel Fork Creek bottom and was under 7 feet of water this fall. It was planted in 31 inch rows and he relied on chemicals to kill weeds and grass. He cultivated once "to get air in the ground." For fertilizer Gall disked in 600 pounds of 33-0-0 per acre and put another 125 pounds of 8-22-11 with trace elements in the row at time of planting.

To Keep Problem Solved

No Surplus of Feed Grain In Missouri, Heinkel Says

We no longer have a surplus of feed grains declared Fred V. Heinkel, president of the Missouri Farmers Association. "The grain surplus has been solved. Our problem is to keep it solved," he said.

"Farmers are harvesting the largest crop of soybeans and corn they have ever grown this year and trade channels have evidenced little concern. Cash grain prices in Missouri are higher than the loan in most instances," he continued.

"Government take-over of grain has been negligible for the last few years. In Missouri the Commodity Credit Corporation has disposed of approximately 3 1/2 million bushels of grain storage during the past 18 months and the remaining government storage is filled to less than 30 per cent of capacity. Terminal elevators in the cities have plenty of room.

"Some country elevators are choked up with the record harvest, but this is a transportation problem. This grain will find a home in the big terminal elevators as quickly as railroad cars, trucks and barges can be supplied to move the grain from the country point elevators," Heinkel added.

"Credit for solving the grain surplus problem must be given to the success of the government feed-grains programs, an increase in exports and the high level of prosperity in this country," he said.

Heinkel was one of the principal authors of the government's feed-grain program. "We had confidence in this program," he continued, "and it has come up to our enthusiastic expectations."

He said the slight improvement in the standard of living of the so-called "have not" nations, Public Law 480 and the crop failures in the Communist to the healthy export market.

Prosperity has also helped. "When people have money they eat bacon and eggs for breakfast — not oatmeal. They are eating beef steak and roasts — not macaroni. Housewives are buying butter instead of the cheaper substitute products. All this helps account for the fast disappearance of our feed grains supply," Heinkel said.

Big Jewel Theft

LONDON (AP) — Jewelry worth more than a quarter-million pounds ($700,000) was taken from the stronghold of a fashionable West End shop today by a gang that worked its way in with acetylene torches.

A spokesman for Carrington's and Co., on Regent Street, made the estimate and added:

"It is probably far in excess of a quarter of a million."

Insurance valuers, whose standard reward for stolen goods is 10 per cent, posted a reward of 30,000 pounds ($84,000).

Problems And Challenges

Missouri Farm Bureau President Olen Monsees, in his annual address last week to the membership attending the 51st annual meeting of the state's largest voluntary farm organization, commented that at no time in history has American agriculture reached so far and touched the lives of so many people as today. "Nor have the problems and the challenges ever been greater."

In reviewing the farm programs, Monsees stated that Congress has held on to every wartime and every subsequent scheme which funnel funds to the farmer and the results are devastating.

President Monsees stated that the future of our nation is certainly dependent on agriculture, and the future of agriculture is dependent on the individuals who have the long-range vision to want net earnings for farmers to be at the highest possible point, but who want this high net income in an economy that is not an inflated one.

"We need the strength of a membership that seeks freedom in the market place," he continued, "and we believe our members are ready to support that type of a market program."

Monsees stated that farmers definitely want to be a part of a marketing system. Today we live in a time of rapid change! In it we find much confusion in our present-day livestock marketing system. He pointed out that to meet these changes and to avoid the confusions, Farm Bureau staff has worked with the Producer Agencies in Missouri to develop a program that would give the farmer a bargaining place in the market system. This program could be a central marketing association, functioning through state Farm Bureaus in the midwest and a Producer Agency groups in these states.

The program is now being discussed by these states and by the American Farm Bureau board of directors.

loan for 1966 crop oats will be 60 cents a bushel and for rye $1.02 a bushel, both unchanged from this year.

But as in the past these two grains are not included in the feed grain program and all production will be eligible for loans.

These benefits include: corn, price support loans at $1 a bushel compared to $1.05 this year and a price support payment of 30 cents a bushel compared with 20 cents this year; barley, price support loan of 80 cents a bushel, compared with 16 cents this year; and sorghum grain, price support loans at $1.52 per hundred this year.

The price support payments will be made on the basis of projected production instead of, as in the past, on normal production.

The price support payments to cooperating farmers will be on 50 per cent of the farm's base acreage instead of 80 per cent this year.

Except in the case of those farms with base feed grain acreages of 25 acres or less, participating farms also will be eligible for payments on that portion of their base acreages between 20 per cent and 50 per cent diverted from production. No payment would be made, as was the case this year, on the first 20 per cent of the base acreage idled.

Freeman also announced that the national average support

"We believe the magnitude of this venture," Monsees stated, "could have more effect on the future of livestock marketing than anything that has developed in recent years. It could add influence and prestige; it could serve a need; it could help to restore confidence in our market system. It could help to bring together the livestock industry, rather than separating it into livestock commodity groups. It could, we believe, help to keep government out of the livestock marketing business."

"Most Americans are learning that we can't separate agriculture from the rest of our national economy... and who is responsible for the big story in agriculture... the fact that our industry is the source of the world's most fabulous food supply?"

"Most of us here recognize that it is the accomplishment of the farmer... not the accomplishment by Government. Certainly, the form of government has made the accomplishment possible, but Government, itself, through farm programs can't take the credit..."

In conclusion, Monsees stated, "It is so easy to paint a bright picture of our opportunities, to talk about what needs to be done, and then sit by and wait for someone else to do the job. This Republic of ours was not created by accident. It did not come into effect automatically! The people of Farm Bureau have as much moral courage as our founding fathers. The Farm Bureau members are as strongly endowed with the powers of discrimination as the patriot framers of the Constitution. My challenge to the membership is that we maintain these qualities in the face of mass opinion! Only then can we be a credit to Farm Bureau... and to ourselves!"

Season Still Perfect

Nebraska Seeks Win Over O.S.U.

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Missouri pulled the throttle out all the way against fired-up Kansas and proved again it was worthy of a Sugar Bowl trip. Now it's Nebraska's turn.

The unbeaten, Orange-Bowl-bound Huskers would like nothing better than a decisive victory over its chief Big Eight tormentor, Oklahoma, on Thanksgiving Day at Lincoln. It will be nationally televised.

Nebraska hasn't had a perfect season since 1915.

The biggest incentive for Nebraska, however, will be Oklahoma's 17-7 victory over the Huskers in the final game of last season. That spoiled a perfect season for the Huskers, but they still won the undisputed Big Eight crown.

Missouri will take a 7-2-1 record to New Orleans after its 44-20 victory over Kansas. Gary Lane passed and ran for 215, Charlie Brown ran for 158 and Johnny Roland, a two-way performer, had 178.

Colorado finished 6-2-2, its best season since the 1961 title year, by clipping Air Force 19-6 at Boulder with split end Frank Rogers getting a game-breaking 57-yard TD pass and two field goals.

Oklahoma State escaped the cellar by whipping Kansas State 31-7 at Stillwater with fullback Walt Garrison eating up 173 yards. Iowa State was upset 10-9 at New Mexico and finished 5-4-1, greatly improved over 1964.

Lane's big day was capped by his 39-yard touchdown pass to Monroe Phelps just 16 seconds before the final gun. He ran his career total offense figure to 3,203 yards for 29 games and became the eighth player in league history to reach 3,000.

Brown's 86-yard bolt up the middle in the third period put Missouri out of reach at 27-13. Kansas stacked the middle early, forcing Lane outside, but he had all the answers. Then when the Jayhawks protected the outside, Lane sent Brown up the middle.

"Nebraska has nobody like Lane," said Mitchell.

Don Faurot, Missouri athletic director, will head south Tuesday to select a training site for the Sugar Bowl contest. Several sites will be inspected, among them New Orleans and Pensacola, Fla.

"Kansas really hit us," Devine said. "I'm sure glad we don't have to play this week. We have at least five who couldn't make it."

Goal Causes Controversy And Battle

NEW YORK (AP) — A gale of controversy is swirling around Arthur Reichert today. A few hours ago it was fists instead of words.

Reichert, a little man who has been pushing buttons for 30 years as a goal judge at National Hockey League games in New York, pushed one Sunday night... and set off a small war that started with Ranger General Manager Emile Francis trading punches with an over-zealous fan and ended with Ranger players battling paying customers in the stands.

The fireworks exploded in the third period of the Rangers' 3-3 tie with Detroit when the Red Wings' Floyd Smith got off a shot from a scramble in front of the New York cage and Reichert flashed the red light, signifying a score.

The Rangers and Coach Red Sullivan protested vehemently to Reichert, whose perch in the first row of seats directly behind the goal is separated from the playing surface by a 10-foot barrier of wood panel and unbreakable glass. The New York players claimed goalie Ed Giacomin had stopped the puck short of the goal line.

Reichert, however, stuck to his decision and Referee Art Skov backed him up.

While the argument appeared to subside, Francis, the peppy former NHL goalie, left his seat in the stands and approached Reichert. They exchanged angry words and an unidentified fan joined the hassle. Suddenly the fan and Francis began throwing punches and the crowd closed in.

The Rangers' Vic Hadfield saw Francis in the middle of the scuffle, scaled the wood and glass enclosure on his skates and jumped into the stands. At least six other New York players followed him over the barrier and it took a force of Garden policemen five minutes to separate them from the milling, swinging fans.

When order finally was restored, the fan who tangled with Francis was led out of the arena — and later released. Francis went to the dressing room for two stitches over a gashed left eye.

Play was resumed and, after a fluke, 80-foot shot by Earl Ingardfield caromed off the backboard, hit Detroit goalie Roger Crozier's pads and skipped into the net for a 3-2 New York lead. The Wings tied it on Bruce MacGregor's goal in the final 70 seconds.

Reichert, around whom the brawl raged, escaped unhurt and left the Garden immediately after the game. But he didn't escape the wrath of Francis and Ranger President William Jennings when they discussed the incident later.

Informing that the fan he battled had declined to press charges, Francis said: "I don't want to press charges either. I just want that goal back."

"Reichert was the only one in the arena who thought the puck was in the net," he continued.

Detroit captain Alex Delvecchio, however, backed up the harassed goal judge. "The puck was six inches over the line," he said. "You didn't see Giacomin arguing about it. If the referee hadn't taken so much time getting play started again, there wouldn't have been any difficulty."

While the storm raged in New

Second Highest Deer Harvest In History

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The seven-day deer season ended Sunday with the second highest harvest by firearms in Missouri's history.

The total was 18,422 deer, which was 2,297 less than last year's record total, the state Conservation Commission said.

The total included 11,556 bucks and 6,866 does.

One reason fewer deer were killed this year was the fact that 40 fewer counties were opened to hunting both bucks and does.

The leading counties were Texas, with 954 deer killed; Benton 947, and Howell 838.

One hunter was shot to death accidentally.

Dick Lynch Sparkles NY Drive

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Dick Lynch is listed as a cornerback, but he handled the ball so often Sunday it was difficult to tell if he was playing offense or defense.

The ball-hawking New Yorker not only scored one touchdown for the Giants and set up another, he even tallied two points for the St. Louis Cardinals.

"The coaches have been telling us all week to go after the ball," he explained.

He and the New York defense accomplished that mission so thoroughly they moved into a second place tie with St. Louis in the Eastern Division by beating the Cardinals, 28-15, in the National Football League duel.

The Giant victory also all but eliminated the once highly-rated, but now sagging, Cardinals from title consideration. The Cardinals, who have lost four of their last five games, are tied with the Giants at 5-5, three games behind Cleveland with four contests remaining.

Lynch began the day on an unusual note.

He pounced on a loose ball in the New York end zone after teammate Jerry Hillebrand had intercepted a pass by reserve St. Louis quarterback Buddy Humphrey at the two and fumbled. Lynch thus gave the Cardinals a two-point safety, instead of seven points on a touchdown.

But he helped get these back before halftime when he intercepted another Humphrey pass and raced 23 yards to the St. Louis 15. Earl Morrill tossed five yards to Homer Jones moments later for a touchdown and a 7-5 lead.
